Preparation For Revelries Begins With Talent Call

College Artists Asked To Report To Fitts, Show Chairman

Issuing a call for student talent of all kinds, chairman Randolph Fitts of Spartan Revelries fame yesterday began intensive preparations for the 1935 version of the colorful stage show, which annually climaxes the gala Spardi Gras celebration on the campus. April 26 has been set as the day of observance of the all-day carnival this year.

Dave Good, local professional dancing instructor, has again volunteered his services as director of the "line", and plans to perfect new and unusual techniques with his dancing girls for the stage show. A meeting of all girls who would like to perform in the line will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Morris Dailey auditorium. It is especially emphasized by the chairman of the show that no experience is necessary, and there will be no try-outs. Dancers displaying stage possibilities will be selected by Mr. Good for the line.

KAPPA DELTA PI HAS BI-MONTHLY MEETING TONIGHT

The regular bi-monthly meeting of Kappa Delta Pi will be held this evening, Tuesday the 26th, in room 155 at 7:30 p. m. The main topic for discussion will be "The Relationship Between School and Community". The speakers for this subject, members of Kappa Delta Pi, are Julia Boshart and Richard Hughes. This question is becoming more vital to the teacher every year, and the progressive teacher is more aware of his present day problems. This meeting will be turned over to group discussion following the talks.

A full program has been planned which includes a business meeting, instrumental selections, and the Verse Speaking Trio. It will be an evening well spent in the advancement of educational ideas and practices. All members are invited and urged to attend.

Author To Speak Here On "Move for Peace"

Allan Hunter, pastor of the Mount Hollywood community church will speak today at 11 o'clock in the Little Theater on "The Move for Peace".

Mr. Hunter is a Princeton graduate and the author of several books, of which two of the most popular are "Social Perplexities" and "Youth's Adventure".

During the noon hour he will speak in room 1 of the Home Economics building. Students may bring their lunch to this meeting and eat while they hear him speak.

State Teams Will Debate In Nation Wide Meet Soon

Strauss, McCartney To Represent Men In Verbal Clash

Representing San Jose State college at the National Pi Kappa Delta debate tournament at Stockton, February 28 to March 1, will be J.D. Strauss and Everett McCartney, men's team; and Mae Wilburn and Anne Isaaksen, women's team.

Mr. Ralph Eckert, debate coach, is to accompany the teams and will act as judge in the tournament in which the question for discussion will be: "Resolved: That the several nations should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions."

Both sides of the subject will be debated by the teams which must participate in at least four debates each. If they win in the first round, they will take part in more than four.

The teams have contended with different schools on this subject at State, the last time being Monday before the San Jose Women's club. Delegates were chosen as the leaders in this activity here.

Clancy Play Has Favorable First Night Reception

Character Portrayal by Jim Clancy, Arps Is Excellent

"Chimera", fantastic and frightening, seizes upon the mind of a woman, making her its pawn—a creature in transition from her healthy mind to one dwelling in the realm of insanity.

Such is the character of James Clancy's tragedy, "Chimera", played for the first of its three nights showings last night in the Little Theater.

Clancy, the playwright, is to be highly commended upon the success with which the play maintained its morbid vein. "Chimera" summons the imaginations of those who have had an extensive background in psychology, and taxes the interpretations of those who have not. It is an excellent study for an audience of psychologists.

GOOD LEADS

It is easy to see that "Chimera" needs leads like Joy Arps and James Clancy to make it intelligible. Without a most careful and studied interpretation on the parts of these two star actors, "Chimera" would lose its audience hold in the first act.

The blending strata of normality and abnormality are ingeniously expressed in both the lines and action of Joy Arps, playing the part of Lona Soane. She is a middle-aged woman who due to illness, suffering from the loss of her child at birth becomes insane, suffering from illusions of grandeur and persecution. Miss Arps' splendid work in voice and technique is at its height in this partly realistic and partly imaginative character.

CONTRASTING ROLES

As Michael Soane, her husband, James Clancy is a splendid contrast to Lona. His is an excellent reactive character to the obsessed one of his wife.

Having written the play and understanding the mental attitudes (Continued on page four)

Photography Students Plan Trip To Alum Rock Park Saturday

A field trip Saturday morning to Alum Rock Park is being planned for all photography students interested announced Mr. George E. Stone instructor.

The group will meet in front of the Science building at 9:00 a. m. and will go to the park by bus. They will take the photographic equipment with them, including film packs which will enable them all to take pictures.

Mr. Buss passed Mrs. Luella Stevenson in the final count by a score of 360 points, eleven points to the advantage of Mrs. Stevenson who had led the faculty division for four weeks and was "odds-on" favorite to win the prize La Torre.

HAMSHER DEFEATED

Robert Buss came through in the final count to score 388 points, against the 378 points of his nearest competitor, Clarence Hamsher. In so doing the student made more than his father, who is noted for his extensive knowledge of California geography.

In the co-ed's division of the contest, Miss Ferrasci won on an overwhelming victory, surpassing her nearest rival by 56 points to win the prize La Torre by a 340 point score.

EXCITING FINISH

The finish of the popular contest, which has attracted the interest of the entire school, afforded an exciting afternoon for the judges, who witnessed the "dark horses" surpass the almost certain winners in the final seconds of the judging.

Until the last identification lists had been judged it appeared as though Mrs. Stevenson was a certain winner in the faculty group, and Hamsher in the student-general division.

A total of 500 points was the maximum score that could have been turned in for the contest. This verified a prediction by judges at the start of the contest that an average of 80 per cent for each of the five groups of pictures would be necessary in order to win the contest.

Reminiscences

Ahira Holmes—the first principal of the first normal school in California—later to develop into San Jose State College.

Born in Plymouth, Massachusetts in 1823, Mr. Holmes received his primary education training in the public school of that "historic and puritanic town".

Following the completion of his education, Holmes came to California in 1852 and made his home in San Francisco where he received the appointment from the Board of Education of that city as principal of the Union street public school.

Mr. Holmes actually began his career, which brought him fame on the Pacific Coast as an outstanding educator, in 1861 when he moved to Los Angeles and was elected principal of the only grammar school then opened in that city.

In the year 1862, the San Jose State college of the future was founded and in seeking for a capable leader of the first Normal school in California, the Board of Trustees appointed Ahira Holmes as principal of the institution. Mr. Holmes held this position until 1865 when he resigned to be elected principal of the Mission Grammar school in San Francisco; here the first ex-president of California's first normal school remained for two years when he left his profession to retire on his ranch near the city limits of San Jose where he died in 1902.

The years between 1852 and 1861, when Mr. Holmes resided in San Francisco, the first prexy of San Jose State was a prominent member of the famous vigilante committee in that city and was a leader in combating outbreaks of lawlessness which were evident during that period.

Photo-Engraving

It is easy—and quite natural—for the editorial staff to lapse frequently into periods of marveling at the great strides in development manifested by the work of various departments of the college.

The photography department's recent accomplishment—making a photo-engraving which was printed in Friday's Daily—again inspires us to fill the editorial column with reverberations of the triumphant reception accorded the engraving in the Publications office.

To us it represents the possible realization of a long-hoped-for aim. To those not understanding the intricacies of making a photo-engraving, this step forward does not mean anything.

In reality, this accomplishment of itself does not mean a great deal. Because a student was able, through weeks of careful study and perseverance under the supervision of a capable instructor, to produce a finished work from a line drawing, it does not necessarily mean that the same success will reward his efforts when applied to fine-screened photographs.

We do not mean to dampen the enthusiasm which resulted from successful completion of the first project, nor to discourage anyone from further attempts. We merely wish to emphasize for those who do not know, the fact that much more study, diligent research, and thorough experimenting will be necessary before a second step may be completed.

The Spartan Daily is still joyfully anticipating the ultimate establishment of a photo-engraving plant at San Jose State, but we do not want to be too rash in our expectations.

Given enough time, the same conscientious workers in the science department will finally develop the process everyone is so anxious to see materialize. D. F.

Express Opinion

Today's "I Think" column, featuring interviews with several campus orchestra leaders, reveals that the leaders, although not thrilled at the prospect of playing for nothing at noon concerts, would probably do so if the evening dances given by students groups used only their music.

We have yet to hear from the students as a whole in regard to this proposal. If a sufficient number of students favor retaining the noon dances, we believe they could be continued and the noon popular music concert given on some other day.

The only way we have of determining what the students want is through the "I Think" column and the Contributor's Issue. May we have your opinions and suggestions?

Just Among Ourselves

Anyhow it's nice to have it settled, and so decisively, too. We can go ahead and enjoy the Aggies without any fears. There's something in doing a thing handsomely. I've always rather envied that prison warden's chauffeur. He was a lifer but a fine chauffeur, so the warden used him to drive his car. No traffic cop could scare that fellow. Fine him? He had no money. Put him in jail? He was already in for life. What a comfortable feeling!

But the baseball team won again. I can hardly believe it, but I saw that U.S.S. Nevada game myself. Our fellows made three home runs, and smackers they were. No fooling, no blundering, the ball simply hit the field house a mile away and then the runners breezed around the bags. We need a better diamond, more room all around. We have an offer on the nineteen acres East of Spartan Field and that would double it in size. I'm afraid, however, we shall not be able to finance it right away. I hope we may be able to get it in the near future, then we won't have to irritate our neighbors with foul balls, nor force our fielders to negotiate the running track when they're after the long ones.

Miss Innes has been handling the campaign to change the name. Results are excellent. So many enthusiastic reports from students and alumni. I am particularly pleased about the county organizations. Our friends are all planning to get in touch with their legislators, and that will do a lot of good. The county organization play may prove a good one for future campaigns. In writing to your legislators, be sure to make it clear that the change of name does not contemplate a change in the character of the college. If the college offering needs to be changed, the State Board of Education will change it, as they already have the authority to do so. Don't waste time arguing for something we already have. Say simply that you prefer the name State College, and for that reason you are asking the support of your home representatives. Don't use the word "demand". A simple courteous request will get better results.

I wonder if we, as a nation, are licked on booze and narcotic control? I can't get much excited about the next war when we have conditions right in front of us every day that are much worse and doing untold damage. Still, it's so thrilling to pass resolutions and swear we'll never go to war, or something. But there's not much sentiment in a common drunk, and yet the liquor interests are doing more damage than the munitions people ever did, and we just let them get away with it. I hated to see those fine young fellows who came down to see the game Friday, all in the uniform of the United States Navy with U.S.S. Nevada on their caps, putting on a party right there in front of the grandstand. Of course, they entertained us. One of them was truly funny, and if the booze made him that way there may be some excuse. If he managed to get that baseball back to his ship, some San Jose State autographs will prove treasured possessions, but the rest of them weren't funny. It looked just like a big drunk for its own sake, stewed to oblivion.

Of course, living is sort of humdrum for many people. There are some minds that find satisfaction in delusions of grandeur. Perhaps one has the right to get that way if it doesn't harm any one else. Still, it's too bad to see fine young people so deluded, to see them give up their self respect for a fake satisfaction. Liquor is a problem, and latest reports indicate that narcotics are coming to our shores in ever increasing amounts. Now's the time to use your common sense. The nation can't protect you.

Swimming Team Loses To San Francisco Y.M., 46-38

Dropping their third consecutive meet of the season, the Spartan swimming team was defeated by the San Francisco Y. M. C. A. Saturday afternoon in the city pool. The final score of the meet showed the Y boys to be superior to the Spartans by an eight point margin, 46-38.

The meet began inauspiciously for the locals when they were defeated in the 400 yard freestyle relay by a margin of a few inches. Bill Ambrose was kept out of this race in order to keep him fresh for other races, which resulted in the relay being lost.

Dave Lynn turned in the most creditable performance for the Spartans when he pushed Cox of the Y into second place in the two hundred yard breast stroke. Captain Hal Houser won this event for the locals in 2 minutes 51.2 seconds.

The backstroke found the supremacy of the Y again asserting itself when Reed and Alger finished in that order, with Withycombe of the locals able to garner no more than a single point with a third place.

From the time of the backstroke the morale of the Spartans wavered and broke as the Y lads took the 50 yard sprint, the 440, and the 100 yard sprint in order. Not being satisfied with these places they managed to take third in the 50 and a second in the 440 along with the winning points.

Johnnie DeSmet and Charlie York renewed their duel for first place points with DeSmet emerging the winner for the second consecutive time as he feated his teammate by one point. Both of the Spartans defeated the Y man, Ruef, easily.

With a sure win in the meet in sight, Coach Madera did not take any great pains to try to win the 220 yard freestyle, which was won by Norm Fitzgerald, with teammate Bob Locks finishing second place. The final event found the Spartan medley relay team of Withycombe, Houser, and Ambrose going down for the final Spartan defeat of the day.

*ALL * STAR * TEAM*

An All-Star team from each of the respective leagues will meet each other at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday night. Watch for your names on one of these teams, fellows.

SWIMMING

According to Coach Walker, the Intramural Swimming will be run off next Friday afternoon at 4:15 p.m. All events will be held at this time, so be sure to show up, fellows. It was decided to hold the meet at this time as the Varsity does not have a meet here this week-end. It is imperative that all fellows who signed up report at the pool at this hour, since there must be at least two fellows in each event to make a race of it. The sign-up in swimming was rather poor; however, Coach Walker expects some real races to develop.

The water polo games will probably start in the near future. To those students who do not understand water polo as played in our Intramural games, it consists of a combination of swimming, football, murder (without the blood, you understand), and sundry other diversions enjoyed by the rougher class in college!

Frosh Cagers Pick Weston Team Captain

The San Jose Frosh basketball squad, at a picnic on the ranch of its coach, DeWitt Portal Sunday, elected Bill Weston honorary captain for the year.

Weston turned out after the season was under way, but his work of the past month has been little less than sensational and the team was almost unanimous in selecting him captain of one of the most successful Frosh fives in the history of the school.

This outing, enjoyed by twenty members of the freshman squad, members of the visiting Fort Bragg Community club's squad and managers, turned out to be almost a business session as the team held a vote concerning scheduling a post season game with Ukiah high school.

The Portalmen were unanimous in voting that the journey be made to Ukiah on March 8. The up-staters have had one of their most successful seasons in years, winning their conference title and defeating 145 pound teams from California and San Francisco State. Only one game was lost and that to the strong College of Pacific Cubs by a one point margin.

As expenses only include ten men, the squad voted to send the following representatives: Ki Miyamoto, Ralph Fulton, Ed Becker, Captain Bill Weston, Bill Lewis, Elbert Garcia, Charles Olson, Hugh Cramer, Leonard James and Walter McPherson. The first two men were selected unanimously.

A final check-up on the individual scoring gave honors to Ki Miyamoto with 91 points; Garcia, 62; Becker, 59;

Newman Members Plan Semi-Formal Dance Saturday

With plans for a semi-formal to be given Saturday night, Newman club will finish up its activities of the winter quarter with a gala social event.

A buffet supper will be served late in the evening under the chairmanship of Kathleen McCarthy, assisted by Betty Noonan, Elizabeth Turner, Marjorie Desmond, Eugenia Cunan, Ward Gray, and Francis d'Artenay. General arrangements are being made by a committee headed by Lloyd Buchser, aided by Virginia Perry, Dorothy Buchser, and Stan Lewis.

Reservations for the affair must be made by Friday noon, through members of the Newman club or by phone to the Catholic Women's Center, announces Bob Ryan, president.

Clancy's Play Wins Plaudits

among the characters, one would expect the author, director and actor Clancy to be excellent in his role, which he is. The direction seems to have been unusually co-operative, so smoothly does the small cast blend its abilities.

Jean McCrea understandingly plays the role of Agatha Foster, Michael's cousin, a singing teacher, who lends a quiet and able characterization, playing also a victim of jealousy of Lona, whose imaginings carry her to extremes.

AZARRA EXCELLENT

As Phillip Brownley, a friend of the Soanes, Russel Azzara is, as usual in his roles, an excellent character. His lines and acting do much to enlighten the audience as to the conditions of the play.

Elizabeth Allampress plays the role of Mrs. Canby, the housekeeper. Her portrayal is sincere and polished.

The technical staff worked in splendid accord with the players, headed by Pete Mingrone, stage manager.

Jack Charnow's orchestra provided music for the production.

Song Contest Will Be Continued As Feature Of S.J. Spartan Revelries

Fitts hastened to add that he has a spot for six or eight boys in the line to do a specialty dance number; therefore he invites any men who would enjoy appearing in Sparta's gay stage revue with over a dozen campus beauties to attend this afternoon's meeting or see him as soon as convenient.

In addition to the chorus features, Fitts is preparing a number of novelty skits and musical numbers, and he invites talented students to contact him immediately for a place in the show.

SONG CONTEST

Continuing the popular song contest which resulted last year in the selection of Emil Bouret's "By Myself" as the best number, the Spartan Revelries provides an excellent opportunity for campus composers and lyric writers to shine.

Those who have an idea for a song but cannot write music or play it have just as much opportunity as the most talented music major. Merely communicating the idea to Mr. Fitts or to any capable musician will accomplish the trick.

Those who are especially adept at writing verse have an equal opportunity to display their talents, by furnishing words to the music which lacks them.

PAGEANT MUSIC

An attempt is being made to establish connections with a prominent bay city orchestra, which will sponsor the winning song in the contest. Several excellent compositions have already been contributed to the chairman, who is orchestrating them for use in the stage spectacle. Carmen Dragon's rapidly rising campus band, which contributed greatly to the success of last year's show, will again perform for the Spartan Revelries. Another headliner expected to appear with the show is Marion Lee Barnes, well-known local blues singer.

Take a cigarette like CHESTERFIELD

You know I like that cigarette...

I like the way it tastes... there's plenty of taste there.

Chesterfield is mild, not strong... and that's another thing I like in a cigarette.

What's more, They Satisfy... and that's what I like a cigarette to do.

I get a lot of pleasure out of Chesterfield... you know I like that cigarette.
